

Social Psychology – Social Influence

Normative influence – following the crowd

Informational influence – accepting the majority's influence

Deutch and Gerrard said that you could have one type of social influence but not both at the same time. Insko challenged this and stated that both normative and informational influence can work together.